

THE FUTURE WORKS

---

“We wanted to design a workplace that genuinely supports people, not just accommodates them. From the roof terrace to the calming, light-filled interiors, wellbeing is embedded in every detail of The Future Works.”

Linda Morey-Burrows - Principle Director

MOREYSMITH

An aerial photograph of a city at sunset. The sky is a mix of orange, yellow, and light blue. In the foreground, a large, modern building with a blue and white facade and a grid-like window pattern is prominent. To its left, a stone church with a tall spire is visible. The city extends into the background with various buildings, green spaces, and a road with traffic. The overall scene is a mix of old and new architecture.

Make an entrance

As soon as you step through the doors into the double-height reception, you know this is no ordinary workplace – spacious, light-filled, modern, and stylish.

Designed by leading interiors studio MoreySmith, the space creates an impressive arrival experience, complete with break out space with direct access to the on-site café for informal meetings and everyday convenience.

Rise to the occasion

The 3,100 sq ft communal roof terrace at The Future Works is a vibrant social hub (available for private hire) with stunning views toward Windsor Castle, soft seating, a bar and ping pong table. Regular yoga mornings and tenant events create a lively atmosphere, while lush greenery and relaxed seating make it the perfect spot to unwind, connect or simply enjoy the skyline.

Meet Your New Favourite Lunch Spot

Peckish? Good, because the best little café in town just happens to be right where you work. We're talking breakfast pots, bruschetta, fresh salads, wraps, daily hot dishes, club sarnies and cakes straight from the oven.

“It's more than a café - it's where we grab five minutes to reset. The food's great, with lots of choice”

A town being reinvented for business

A bold town-centre masterplan led by Berkeley, Slough is redefining its role as one of the South East's most connected and investable business destinations.

In 2025, Berkeley completed the purchase of the 9.2 acre Queensmere Shopping Centre and Observatory Shopping Centre sites. The developer plans to transform the town centre with new homes, shops and green spaces. Work starts this year and the first phase will be completed in 2030.

Heritage Quarter

Celebrating Slough's legacy and innovation.

Framed by St Ethelbert's Church, the Heritage Quarter honours Slough's innovators - weaving history into contemporary design. The Heritage Quarter will form Phase 1 of the redevelopment and comprise of 346 homes along with a mix of new ground floor amenities, retail and restaurants.

Herschel Square

A New Town Square.

Transforming the heart of Slough into a vibrant social hub, alive with food, culture, and community spirit.

Herschel Square draws inspiration from the Herschel family's pioneering work in astronomy.

Station Walk

A greener town centre made for people.

Improved routes will link the station to the high street, creating a gateway to Slough town centre through a safer, greener and more welcoming place.

Our proposals will bring a biodiversity net gain of over 500%, with landscape and nature woven through the development including a new public park located off the High Street.

Slough has big plans

A greener, more connected town centre is coming to Slough – bringing new life and opportunity to the heart of the town. This map highlights the key areas that will shape its transformation.
